

Hailey Budway | Text Transcript | CSAHS Award Recognition 2021

Hello, my name is Hailey. I'm a fourth-year international development student specializing in agriculture and food security. I received the Larry and Margaret Dickenson Scholarship and so I wanted to say thank you to Ms. Margaret Dickenson for presenting me with this award.

I am so appreciative, it will help me immensely as I want to continue school after my degree at University of Guelph, I actually just applied for a practicum in sustainable agriculture at the University of British Columbia.

It's a four-month program during the summer but I really do think the scholarship will help me immensely and paying tuition for that and so I'm super, super grateful. And yeah, I think that—I think receiving the award really helped make me feel proud about all the hard work that I've put into school, and also just like really validated that I can move forward in my studies and that is something that I'm passionate about this field of sustainable agriculture is something that I want to continue studying and something that I want to go into in a career.

I'm super passionate about food systems and especially Indigenous knowledge and food systems and so yeah, I would love to continue on with that, and so I just want to say a big thank you to you for choosing me for this award. So, thank you so much.
